

Senior Product Manager (m/f)

Location: Mannheim, Germany

Caruso is a digital B2B mobility data & service marketplace supporting the implementation, differentiation and expansion of the connected mobility business. We are proud of being a trusted partner of companies such as Bosch, Continental, Mobivia, Schaeffler, Vodafone & ZF Friedrichshafen. We owe our growing success to simple principles like openness, courage, passion, curiosity, selflessness, innovation, inclusion and integrity. It is the embodiment of these traits that makes Caruso the marketplace for the mobility ecosystem. It is also what we look for in new employees.

A day in the Life:

- Incrementally develop a product design and a tangible feature roadmap of the Caruso marketplace product
- Follow a user centric design process, support the Caruso business team in capturing, eliciting and prioritising product requirements from our customer base.
- Evolve and expand our concrete, technical vision of the Caruso marketplace that will guide Caruso's software development team.
- Pursue a consistent business focus by analysing the market and adjusting feature design and priorities to the sustainable needs of our partners
- Be a good listener as well as a strong communicator who collaboratively aligns all parts of the Caruso team around your evolving product vision

What you'll need:

- At least 8 years of product management and product design in creative industry grade software product development projects with exposure to the full software life cycle, from initial idea to product rollout
- Experience in agile product management methodology and the ability to apply your skills and experience to the evolving area of mobility services in the automotive industry
- Technical and business experience in marketplace products and catalogue systems.
- Experience in message / service brokering middleware and cloud based SaaS
- Strong ability to self-organize and to work in a goal-oriented manner in our dynamic, highly agile, international environment
- Dedication to agile design, development and quality principles and methodology

What you'll get:

Responsibility for one of the most exciting emerging platform products in the automotive market and emergence to an outstanding highly motivated agile team. Our commodities include MacBook, iPhone, coffee, soft drinks, table tennis, internal events, completely flexible working hours, working from home in your PJs whenever you feel the need. But that is not our USP. We offer the unique opportunity to join a rapidly growing start-up backed by the key players of one of the most powerful and exciting industries. We offer real responsibility where your working environment is pretty much a green field so that it is up to you how to interpret and shape your role. We will encourage you in challenging us – you'll have a say in shaping the mobility ecosystem. As we are growing we want you to grow with us; your colleagues and our management will do their very best to support you in defining your desired career path and reaching your personal development goals. We have a great international and diverse team that is fun to work with and we pay a competitive salary too – of course ;)

Sounds good?

Send your application to hello@caruso-dataplace.com including a cover letter, your CV & a brief portfolio and we'll get back to you in no time.